

Dear Sir / Madam

In my capacity as Mechanical and Electrical Manager for Mace Ltd I was in regular contact with the staff and engineers of Trittech Engineering.

I found them to have a “Will do” attitude and the standard of workmanship was excellent as was the understanding of the requirements of scope, cost, time and installation.

Their approach to the on site aspect of their involvement was evident in their engineers producing high specification finishes to their work and also the high regard paid to the Health and Safety aspect of site working to themselves and others on site.

I would have no hesitation in calling on their services on future projects no matter how complex.
